Norfolk, Va., March 11, 1893.

Editor Virginian-Pilot:
Eventually the toli roads may be secured by the county, but can it be accomplished now? Owing to the unusual winter, the county roads are in bad condition. The itoad Comissioners say it will take $20,000 to put the roads in as good condition as they were last fall. But they have not the money. The county is deep in debt. County warrants have to be recorded and take their turn for payment, and they are mine months in arrears.

Our tax rate is very low; probably too low. Free roads have to be paid for some way. It would require an act of the Legislating.

PRISONER PRESENTS A CANE.
Deputy Sheriff J. W. Johnston, of Salem, has a cane which no prizes very highly, it was made by Robert Foutz, of the county, now serving an eighteen year-term in the penitentiary. It is of plue, and was taken from the Jefferson Davis Mansion, in Richmond. At odd times the lonely prisoner made the cane and sent it to Mr. Johnston as a token of his appreciation of kindnesses shown him while he was in jail there, which is a golden tribute to Mr. Johnston as PRISONER PRESENTS A CANE.
